SEAGULL NEWS

This afternoon we welcome Bolton Wanderers to the Goldstone for the first time in the First Division. We have played the famous Lancashire Club often in the past, but never at this level.

The Burnden Park Club had several frustrating years in Division Two, just missing out on promotion, but they eventually made it just 16 months ago, a year in front of ourselves.

Our visitors have quickly made their mark, and led by manager Ian Greaves, they consolidated last year, and have had quite a good start to this campaign.

League Cup

On Tuesday we travel to Cambridge United for the second leg of the League Cup Second Round. We will be hoping to capitalise on our 2-0 lead from Tuesday, and should we get through, the Third Round draw will be announced next Thursday.

The attention of our season ticket holders is drawn to the conditions printed on their cards regarding ticket arrangements should we play at home.

We would also remind Ground season ticket holders that their tickets are only valid for First and Reserve team League games, and for cup matches they have to pay admission at the turnstiles in the normal way.

Confusion

There has apparently been some confusion caused among supporters concerning which turnstiles they should use to enter certain parts of the ground. On all our stiles the portion of the ground for which they admit supporters is clearly indicated, and we would ask you all to take note of these arrangements, as we cannot allow transfers within the ground from one section to another.

Incidentally, we are continuing to make Ground season tickets available, and after today's match we will be selling tickets to admit supporters to the North-West Terrace. These will be valid for the remaining 19 League games and will cost £28.50.

All the area in the South and South-West Terraces has been taken up already, but we are hoping that anyone wanting to purchase further tickets will be accommodated in the area in front of the new stand.

For most home matches there are now some seats available on general sale. These will always be sold on a first come first served basis at the turnstiles behind the North-West Stand.

Cambridge and Tottenham

Still on the subject of tickets. We have a limited number of stand tickets both for the game at Cambridge on Tuesday, and for the Tottenham game next weekend. These will be on sale at the Goldstone Office after this afternoon's match. In addition, at Tottenham, there is a special terrace area open for visiting supporters.

These tickets are also available, and are priced at £1.50, they can be obtained during normal office hours.

Reserves

Supporters will appreciate that First team matches have to take preference over the Reserves, and there have therefore, been some changes in fixtures for our Reserves.

Their first match was at Cambridge on Thursday, and the first home game in fact is now next Wednesday, September 5, when we meet Wimbledon here at the Goldstone, the kick-off is at 7.15 p.m.

Programmes

We would remind all supporters that match programmes are available from uniformed sellers around the ground, and in the stands, priced at 20p. Our special souvenir edition against Arsenal sold out, but normally we hope to print enough to go round. However, to balance the books, careful estimates have to be made as to the number on sale. Obviously if we have too many unsold it can cost the club money.

Handbook

An Albion Handbook has been published by C C Facilities of Worthing, and is now on general sale from newsagents and other outlets around the area. The book includes pen pictures and photos of all the players, fixture list, appearances and goalscorers, etc from last season, and much more.

It also includes special articles by Chairman Mike Bamber, Manager Alan Mullery and Commercial Manager Ron Pavey about the 'Seagull Special'. Tony Geerts looks at Albion through the ages, and there's a match-by-match review of the promotion season by Tony Millard.

Albion Trainer Mike Yaxley talks about his job, a feature telling how Match of the Day came to Brighton, and there's a photo of the whole First team squad.

Copies are available from the promotions office priced at 60p.

Entertainment

We are hoping to vary our pre-match entertainment programme this season, and this afternoon we have the Crawley Majorettes out on the pitch for you. Once again, on Tuesday, we had a visit from the fabulous Brighton Scout Band, the Marching Ambassadors; the youngsters have won many awards, and clearly, they spend a lot of time training to a high degree of co-ordination both musically, and from the point of view of presentation.

Squash

The Coral's Squash and Badminton Centre, just up the road from the Goldstone is now a very popular venue for many of the staff and players here at the Goldstone. It is a great place for players to wind down after training and the facilities are almost second to none for the squash players.

The liaison between Corals and the Albion has recently been very close and the Club is now using regularly the playing pitch at the Greyhound Stadium for training purposes.

Many older Albion fans will remember the time when the club regularly used the Stadium for its 'A' team games in the old Metropolitan League days. Many players who became first team regulars started their Albion career just up the road.

Mums & Dads

For many years, generations of Albion players have used the cafe in Old Shoreham Road known as 'Mums & Dads' as an unofficial meeting place for coffee and a snack around lunchtime. But, unless they have a liking for Indian food, there won't be too many visiting the establishment now it has changed hands and is a Tandoori Restaurant.

Casino

The Sergeant Yorke Casino Club are organising a very special evening for the Peter O'Sullivan Benefit Fund on Wednesday, October 10. Several of the lads will be going along to join the Club members over a buffet in the Queens' Road premises.

The man responsible for organising the evening is Casino manager, Alastair Laing, a regular Albion supporter. Alastair is also quite a golfer and he has frequently joined the players in combat over 18 holes. He could well do so again shortly at another event for the Sully benefit. On that occasion the members of West Hove Golf Club are getting together to run a special Stapleford Competition in which the Albion will have strong representation.

Airborne

The successful flight to Villa Park has prompted further thoughts on using the air to travel to certain matches and next Tuesday the team will again be conveyed by British Island Airways to a game. The occasion is, of course, the League Cup match at the Abbey Stadium against Cambridge United.

Club Director, Keith Wickenden is quite an enthusiast for flying and is a qualified pilot. So much so that for the Manchester City game he took a four-seater Piper Cherokee to land at Manchester's Ringway Airport.

Commercial Manager Ron Pavey and your programme editor travelled as well and it was quite an experience, not only flying over familiar landmarks but coming in at Ringway among the Boeings and DC 10's.

Panorama

Supporters can also use air travel for certain selected games as the Hove firm, Panorama Travel are organising flights to West Brom, Manchester United, Notts Forest, Liverpool, Leeds and Derby. To each game, supporters will be guaranteed a match seat and for the price of £60.00 they will have included flight from Gatwick and coach transfer. Bookings may be made at Panorama House in Church Road, Hove (Tel: 730281).

On Stage

As we advised in the Cambridge programme there will be a chance for supporters in Mid-Sussex to put questions about the Albion and football in general to manager Alan Mullery and two players, Brian Horton and Teddy Maybank on stage at Haywards Heath next Thursday.

Mid-Sussex District Council are staging the 'Albion Forum' and admission will be £1.00, held at Clair Hall. The Hall is situated just 100 yards from Haywards Heath Station.

Spurs

Next Saturday will be quite an occasion for Manager, Alan Mullery. Much of his First Division playing career was spent at White Hart Lane during Spurs' glory days and next week gives him the chance to go there as a First Division manager.

Alan holds Bill Nicholson, his boss at Spurs, in high regard and doubtless will be anxious to show how much he too, has learned as a manager.

ALBION AT MANCHESTER CITY

The Albion might well have snatched a point at Maine Road last Saturday, despite being 3–1 down one time. Manager Alan Mullery was very critical, after the match, of his team's performance, but even so they could well have come back with a point.

City had the better of the early exchanges as first, Mick Channon headed a free-kick from Barry Silkman just over Albion's bar, and then, a moment later, a mistake by Mark Lawrenson let in Mike Robinson, but Mark recovered in the nick of time to prevent a goal.

The eager Manchester forwards moved forward with a purpose, and McKenzie had a shot well saved by Eric Steele. Albion's first attack followed a corner on the left, but Peter O'Sullivan's shot came to nothing.

City continued to attack, and only a beautiful tackle from Lawrenson stopped Channon in full flow. After 12 minutes, Andy Rollings went down injured after a tackle on McKenzie, and he left the field for a short while, returning a few minutes later but limping.

An opening created by Mike Channon allowed Robinson to fire fractionally over Albion's bar, and then Eric Steele saved well a low cross shot from Paul Power.

Albion's respite, though, was brief, Barry Silkman collected the ball in midfield, and a near perfect pass caught Power in full stride, he shook off Albion's defence to net easily on 24 minutes.

Brilliant

A left-footed shot from McKenzie almost made it two, but a brilliant close range save from Eric Steele saved the day. On the half-hour the 'keeper comfortably gathered a Robinson header from just below the bar.

Then came a moment of pure skill for the Albion, home 'keeper, Joe Corrigan, had hardly touched the ball, when, in the 33rd minute, Peter O'Sullivan found Peter Ward on the left-hand side of the City penalty area. Ward skilfully brought the ball down, and almost in one movement shot for goal. Corrigan could only parry the ball and in stormed Teddy Maybank to head home the equaliser.

Maybank was often in the thick of the action and our top picture shows him jumping high above the City defence with another header.

Before half-time City again threatened when McKenzie slipped Horton, only for Lawrenson to step in and put the ball safely back to Steele, but City's next attack was more rewarding.

Silkman broke quickly down the left, out-paced Horton, and his left-footed cross to the penalty spot found the onrushing Channon in full flow, and his drive from some 12 yards flicked Rollings on the way into the net.

Penalty

So the Albion went in at half-time a goal down, and the second had come at a bad time, just before the break. Worse was to come two minutes into the second-half.

Paul Clark had come on as substitute for the injured Rollings, and although he appeared to play the ball with his second kick of the game, referee, Pat Partridge deemed him to have brought down Ranson. From the spot kick Mick Robinson netted his first goal since joining City from Preston.

Shortly afterwards, John Gregory was booked, and 10 minutes into the half Eric Steele made a good low save from a drive by Ranson. Albion had their moments, and Joe Corrigan saved well a 20 yard effort from O'Sullivan, while at the other end, Steele was again in action, this time diving full length to stop a Channon header.

Peter Ward had a chance for Albion on 61 minutes, but drove just wide when well placed, but the real opportunity for the Seagulls came on 81 minutes, when O'Sullivan was upended in the City penalty area.

Mr Partridge had no hesitation in pointing to the spot, and up stepped Brian Horton to take the kick. He hit his shot to Corrigan's right, but it sailed past the post, and we were still 3–1 down.

So with a few minutes left the Albion were just a goal away from their first point. Had the penalty gone in it would have been 3–3, but Manager Alan Mullery was very critical after the match of his team's performance.

It was not one of Albion's better days, but the atmosphere was one typical of a big First Division club. Nearly 35,000 fans in a ground of great tradition, and one which can make other clubs envious . . . there are over 27,000 seats at Maine Road, and many from Sussex had visions of Albion's Stadium of the future . . . let's hope a dream can become a reality.

FLASHBACK

The Cambridge goal enjoyed many narrow escapes during Tuesday's League Cup tie. The picture shows one of many goalmouth scrambles with Peter Sayer on the near post and the visitors' 'keeper, Malcolm Webster stranded. The North goal provided the backcloth to Brian Horton's goal but at the same end Peter O'Sullivan had a shot disallowed and Paul Clark hit a post.

The joy of Teddy Maybank and Peter Ward is shown clearly as the two celebrate Ward's goal seconds from time. The striker took advantage of a slip by Cambridge front runner, Tom Finney and his reaction was like quicksilver to slam the ball into the net. There was hardly time to kick-off again before the final whistle.

DIVISION ONE NEWS by Tony Pullein

Some Failures!

League Champions Liverpool found all their grace and glory when they played West Bromwich, one of their closest challengers last season, out of sight at Anfield to extend their unbeaten home run to 39 games. Yet, only a few days earlier, the Reds were being severely criticised for their failure to beat Bolton at Anfield.

Two goals from David Johnson plus another from Terry McDermott, whose shot was deflected into the net off a defender, put Liverpool into a commanding lead shortly after the interval and even Peter Barnes – who pulled back a goal for the Throstles in the 63rd minute – couldn't have appreciated what a rare treat it is for a visiting player to score at Anfield these days.

When Barnes' shot went into the net he became only the sixth visiting player to score at Anfield in 33 matches since April 1978!

The last team to beat Liverpool at home was Birmingham City in January 1978 – and that was only with the aid of a penalty. Since then Liverpool have played 39 home League and Cup games, won 33 of them and drawn only six.

The last visiting team to score more than once at Anfield was Ipswich who somehow contrived to draw 2-2 in April 1978.

Facing a record like that it was small wonder that Bolton manager Ian Greaves decided to adopt special tactics to earn his side a 0-0 draw at Liverpool. And it was quite ridiculous to start writing off Liverpool after one performance. Even the bookies, normally so reluctant to give anything away, fell into the trap by increasing the odds against Liverpool winning the title from 12-1 to 16-1 after the Bolton game.

One of the most delightful early success stories came from Carrow Road where Norwich City, just about the most unlikely of all prospective Champions, took six points from three games to go on top of the First Division table for the first time in their history.

To get there, this small-town club beat three of the game's most established clubs – 4-2 at Everton, 4-0 at home to Tottenham and, best of all, a 2-1 victory over a Leeds' side now considered to be back at its zenith.

There can have been no fluke about three performances like that yet this Norwich line-up appears to break all the laws of logic usually applied to the make-up of a successful side. They have in Kevin Keelan just about the oldest goalkeeper in the Football League; he's being going in League soccer for 20 years, the last 16 of them with Norwich.

The man who motivates them from midfield is another veteran Martin Peters, recently described by Don Revie as 'past it years ago!'

What's more Norwich have one of those normally so-difficult-to-sustain partnerships of father and son on the payroll. Manager John Bond and son Kevin have been together at two clubs – Kevin served his apprenticeship at Bournemouth.

He later re-joined his father at Carrow Road where last season he established himself as the first-team right-back. Most similar partnerships in the past have been broken up purposely for various reasons because they normally don't work.

But it has bonded at Norwich and it was Kevin, in fact, who scored both the goals against Leeds, one from a penalty.

Norwich's flying start has made striker Kevin Reeves feel a little easier in his mind over his decision to turn down a £1-million transfer to Manchester City. Reeves would have received a £50,000 cut from the fee and been set up financially for life.

'It was agony trying to decide for the best,' smiled Kevin, now an England Under-21 international. 'In the end I knew I was happy at Norwich.'

It's not too clear where Reeves would have fitted into the Maine Road set-up – and that's probably one of the reservations which helped him reach his decision – for Bobby Shinton (a £350,000 summer signing from Wrexham) and Mike Channon (bought from Southampton for £300,000 in 1977) both started the season in the reserves.

When Channon was recalled to the first-team, Kazimierz Deyna, signed from Legia Warsaw for £100,000 last season, was the player who was dropped. The arrival of yet another striker could only have further bemused the already perplexed City fans.

Channon, in fact, might well have been offered as part of the Reeves' deal, thus ensuring a future for him in the First Division. The former England forward was offered the player-manager's job at Blackpool and was sorely tempted.

'I would like to carve out a future on the managerial side,' he admitted. 'But I think I would like to continue simply as a player for the time being.'

A few days ago Manchester City gave Southampton's boss Lawrie McMenemy permission to approach Channon and the player has been turning over in his mind a lucrative offer to return to the club where he made his name.

In the close season Ian Greaves paid a club record fee of about £350,000 for West Bromwich Albion midfielder player, Len Cantello, who made over 300 first team appearances for the 'Baggies'.

Neil McNab arrived from Spurs in September 1978 for the previous record amount paid by Bolton, £250,000.

HONOURS BOARD

Bolton, original members of the Football League in 1888, reached third place in Division One on three occasions, and have won the FA Cup four times, in 1923, 1926, 1929 and 1958. In the '58 Final Nat Lofthouse scored both goals in a 2-0 win against Manchester United.

Thirty-three people were killed and about 500 injured when barriers collapsed at the Bolton v Stoke Cup tie on March 9, 1946.

Stanley Matthews gained his only Cup Final winners medal, much to the delight of millions of soccer fans, when he was on the Blackpool winning side at Wembley in 1953 – but the unfortunate losers were Bolton 3-4. Stan Mortensen 3 and Perry scored for Blackpool, with Lofthouse, Moir and Bell on target for Bolton.

TIE UPS

Albion signed centre-half John Napier from Bolton in 1967. John made 217 appearances for the Seaside in a career with the club till 1972. Midfield player Brian Bromley played for Bolton and Portsmouth before joining the Albion in 1971.

United and then moved to Huddersfield when Bolton boss Ian Greaves was manager there.

Len Cantello (Midfield)

Cost the Wanderers a record £350,000 fee when signed from West Bromwich Albion in the close season. Is the sort of midfield player who delights in stamping his authority on a game.

Neil McNab (Midfield)

Joined the Wanderers from Spurs last season for a £250,000 fee. A willing worker he is a fine passer of the ball and enjoys himself in the thick of the action.

Willie Morgan (Winger)

Started his career with Burnley then moved to Manchester United for a big fee. Returned to Burnley and was signed by Wanderers four seasons ago on a free transfer. Scottish international, who spent the summer playing in America.

Frank Worthington (Striker)

Colourful character who makes a big impact wherever he plays. Signed for a £90,000 fee from Leicester in October 1977 after a spell on loan. An England international, Frank was the club's leading scorer last season and spent the summer playing in America.

Mike Graham (Defender)

Youngster who joined the Wanderers from school and made the senior scene last season. A strong tackling full-back, looks to have a very bright future in the game. Born in Lancaster.

ALBION YOUTH TEAM

Southern Youth League. Sunday, August 19 at Lancing

Albion 13

Storrington 0

Scorers: Vessey 5, Vanston, Linstrem, McAlear, Gent 2, Scopes, Young, Shepherd.

Team: Shaun Hatton, Howard Denton, Tony Vessey, Dave Linstrem, Frank McAlear, John Shepherd, Andy Young, Glyn Rees, Chris Scopes, Mark Vanston, Paul Gent. Subs: Brian Cavellini and Matthew Wiltshire.

The match was rather one-sided, but this didn't detract from a fine individual performance by Tony Vessey. Despite their domination Albion's youngsters only led 2-0 at half-time. The occasion may well be remembered by a first goal for John Shepherd, young son of team manager, and former Albion striker of the same name.

Football Around the World

South American Club Cup holders Boca Juniors were surprisingly beaten in the two-leg final of this year's competition. They went down 2-0 and 0-0 against the Paraguayan side Olimpia.

The club has hit crisis point with losses running at an estimated £100,000 a month, and several star players have been placed on the transfer list including midfield man, Mario Zanabria. However, Club President, Alberto Armando has said that none of his players will be sold at give away prices.

Wednesday's European Cup Preliminary Round first-leg match at Dundalk between the home side and Linfield was described by many as for the 'Championship of Ireland'. The occasion was the 20th match for Linfield in European competition. Wednesday was only the second time Irish Clubs from North and South have met in the competition.

The previous occasion was in 1970 when Waterford beat Glentoran. The second leg of the Linfield-Dundalk tie is at Windsor Park Belfast next Wednesday.

The record for penalty kicks in Brazil was recently set during a National Cup game between SC Bahia and Vitoria Fonte Nova FC. The game was drawn after 90 minutes, still level after extra time and then penalties produced level pegging.

Eventually Bahia won by 16 kicks to 15.

Ace striker Johann Cruyff showed his ability as a defender in a recent game for Los Angeles against the Washington Diplomats. Following an injury to team-mate, John McGrane, Cruyff moved back to play sweeper after playing well up front during the first half.

Cruyff crowned his performance by receiving the award as defensive player of the game.

Ferenc Kovacs, manager for the last two years of the Hungarian National team, has lost his job. The new manager is Karoly Lakat who has for many years been in charge of the Ferencvaros club.

Lakat was manager of the Hungarian Olympic team, a very successful one in 1964, and for good measure he is a Professor of History.

Former Chelsea goalkeeper, 37-year-old Peter Bonetti will be playing regularly this season for Scottish Premier Division side, Dunfermline. The Worthing born player moved during the Summer to live on the Isle of Mull and reckons to play football for at least another three years.

World Cup star, Roberto Bettega will this season be playing at the centre of attack for Juventus. Manager Giovanni Trapattoni will play Bettega alongside either Pietro Fanna or Vinicio Verza.

Juventus have been trying to sign a replacement for the veteran Roberto Boninsegna, but have met with little success.

Spanish League side, Rayo of Madrid have signed prolific striker, Fernando Morena, one of the most powerful centre-forwards in the game. The 27-year-old striker from Penarol of Montevideo, moved for £350,000, and should boost a club, for so long in the shadows of Real Madrid and neighbours, Athletic.

Heinze Flohe, the West German international midfield player who retired from the international scene after the World Cup in Argentina has moved from FC Cologne to newly promoted Club Munich 1870, the fee was around £200,000.

The Irish Football Association have accepted an invitation to play in the Australian Centennial celebrations. They will play Down Under in a five nation tournament for which England and Scotland are also sending teams. The trip will be the first time Northern Ireland have played outside Europe since 1953 when they toured Canada and the USA.

What the Papers Say... ABOUT THE ALBION

Daily Telegraph by Denis Lowe

Five goals, a Brighton penalty miss and Manchester City's first win all helped to put Maine Road supporters in good humour, but Alan Mullery was in an angry mood after the promoted club's third successive defeat.

'That was the worst performance I can remember from my team,' said the Brighton manager, who still saw his side go close to a draw after Horton had put a spot kick wide eight minutes from time.

Sunday People by Roy Collins

Brighton aren't doing much to please that vociferous manager, Alan Mullery.

This was their third successive defeat in Division One, and as he blasted their performance at Maine Road he accused... 'This was disgraceful... there were eight players who didn't play at all.'

'We played very well in mid-week at Aston Villa and I said then that we would finish in the top six but on today's performance we'll finish bottom.'

Sunday Telegraph by Tony Stevens

If Brighton's Brian Horton had played the noble captain's part and succeeded with a penalty kick with only eight minutes to go, Brighton could have won their first point in the First Division.

A stronger side would have exposed City, but until they equalised Power's opening goal, Brighton gave away the ball too much and lacked positive thought in midfield and belief right through the side.

The Sun by Alasdair Ross

Brighton manager, Alan Mullery gave his rock bottom side an unexpected reprieve... against his will.

Unhappy Mullery was desperate to make wholesale changes after three demoralising defeats in 10 days. But a lightweight squad left him with no option but to give most of his out-of-form players another chance.

Evening Argus by John Vinicombe

Albion were a well beaten side but, after absorbing much heavy pressure and giving a goal away, they got back only to fall behind again and at a crucial time, just before the interval.

There was no shortage of effort or application but this City side have got it all worked out when it comes to building up from the back.

Daily Telegraph by Donald Saunders

Brian Horton lifted Brighton's sagging confidence with a well taken goal in the 35th minute against stubborn Cambridge at the Goldstone Ground.

Brighton had taken control at the start, largely because the recall of the aggressive Clark had provided them with more power and purpose in midfield.

Indeed it was left to Clark to bring the moderately sized crowd to their feet for the first time when he picked up a return pass from Sayer and hammered the ball only inches wide.

The Sun by Alasdair Ross

Brian Horton and Peter Ward ended Brighton's early season agony with the goals that could yet mean so much to Alan Mullery's troubled side.

Horton's 35th minute strike didn't look like a sufficient cushion for next week's second leg but when Ward pounced in the dying seconds Brighton must have realised that their unhappy run was over.

Daily Mail

Brighton gained their first win of the season but in next Tuesday's return will have to improve on this patchy performance.

Manager Alan Mullery's problems were not solved by dropping three players. The 4-4-2 formation was a failure and Gerry Ryan was brought on after an hour in an attempt to provide more attacking power.

Albion Promotions

by
RON PAVEY Commercial Manager

Our commercial staff continue to have a very busy time, particularly with the mid-week games. The workload is tremendous, but we don't mind the effort if it all helps us to build a truly successful club.

We are learning fast about the needs of the First Division, and our recent visits to Villa Park and Maine Road certainly taught us a thing or two. On the other hand, my opposite number at these clubs have been interested to hear how we go about things, and many people are quite jealous of our organisation.

Many supporters, I know, are interested in match programmes from around the country, and I can say that we always bring back 200 programmes from every match the Albion play. These go on sale at the Promotions Office the morning after a game or, for a Saturday match on Monday mornings.

We are continuing to make travel arrangements for supporters by way of the Seagull Special, and detailed below are the times for the Tottenham train next Saturday.

Tickets are currently on sale for the trip to Cambridge on Tuesday, but response has been disappointing. There is now a very real chance that a train will not be in operation for Tuesday, but I will make an announcement from the touchline at half-time this afternoon.

However, we have our plans finalised for matches coming up. The times and travel schedule will be announced shortly, but the prices will be £6.50 for West Brom, £7.00 for Manchester United and £5.50 for Coventry.

Once again, I would like to ask anyone interested in becoming a Lottery agent, to contact me at the ground, where the number is Brighton 778230.

Here is the itinerary for the Seagull Special to Tottenham:

SHOPS

During all home matches our Albion shops are open in the South-West corner of the Ground, in the North-West corner and behind the terracing on the East side.

All the above souvenirs are on sale as well as several new items of interest.

We have desk clocks and wrist watches each mounted with a 'Seagull' logo. The watches are single jewelled shockproof in a chrome metal case complete with a black leather strap. They are Swiss made and supplied with a one year guarantee, and are on sale at £13.00 each. They make an ideal gift for an Albion supporter.

The clocks are 17 jewel KIF shockproofed and they too are supplied with a one year guarantee . . . again complete with 'Seagull' logo, and the price is £20.00.

Again they are attractive and make a nice present.

New among shop items are trays made by the mentally handicapped. They are an attractive white, and surmounted with the autographs of all the team.

We also have some new sweaters in. They are Royal Blue complete with the Club badge. Small and Medium sizes sell at £5.25, and the Large and Extra large at £6.75.
